Thanks to your support, SIUT evolved into a comprehensive healthcare system for everything that is kidney and liver related.

Now, once again, thanks to your support, we are working to make our Oncology Centre Pakistan's largest cancer hospital.

SIUT started in 1972 as a small, eight-bed urology ward at Karachi's Civil Hospital. Today, SIUT is recognised as the largest urology, nephrology, lithotripsy, dialysis and transplantation centre in the region.

Today, our vision extends to eventually encompass non-renal transplantation and robotic surgery with emphasis on oncology.

At SIUT's Hanifa Suleman Dawood Oncology Centre, we have conducted:

28,000 surgeries,
51,990 radiotherapy sessions,
26,474 chemotherapy sessions,
2,335 brachytherapy sessions and treated over
100,000 cancer patients in the last decade. From 2011 onwards, we have extended our treatment to cover most forms of non-urological forms of cancer, including lung, head, neck and breast cancer.

Once again we ask you to help us turn this vision into a reality. This Ramadan please give your ZAKAT to SIUT.

Khaliq's Story

Khaliq came to SIUT in August 2005, where he was diagnosed with end-stage kidney failure. We placed him on dialysis for four months, after which he underwent a successful kidney transplant; his 25-year-old son, Shahid, was the donor. Khaliq remained in good health for nearly 10 years, until 2015; he developed deep and painful mouth ulcers which did not respond to medication and he came to us; a biopsy confirmed that he was suffering from tongue cancer due to a tumour. We conducted a surgery to remove it, followed by multiple radiotherapy sessions to eradicate the cancer. Since then, Khaliq has been healthy; his wounds have healed, and he comes to SIUT for medication and regular check-ups.

Medical expenses borne by SIUT for Khaliq's treatment:
Rs 2.2 million
Costs borne by Khaliq: Rs 0
